

A FUNNY THING HAPPENED ON THE WAY TO THE HOMESCHOOL IDAHO CONVENTION...

It was a _____(adjective) day that Friday that Mom decided _____(adverb) that we were going to Homeschool Idaho's _____(adjective) Homeschool Convention in Nampa! Mom shouted, “Kids, _____(adverb) _____(verb), it’s time to load up in the _____(type of transportation) and head to Convention!” She said we should be sure to bring anything we need to stay entertained because it was a _____(length of time) drive to Nampa. So, I _____(verb), then went to my room and gathered everything I needed to stay entertained on the _____(adjective) trip to Convention. I packed my _____(favorite toy), my _____(a pet), and _____(something you read). _____(name of a sibling or friend) packed a bag, too. I was shocked to see that (he/she) completely filled up the biggest part of the backpack with _____(a food). We piled in the _____(type of transportation), and on the way to Convention, we had to stop two times! Once to buy _____(noun) and once in order for _____(name of a family member) to _____(verb). Finally, we arrived, but we were running late for _____(ing form of a verb). Mom shouted, “Everybody out! Just leave your bags, we’ll come back and get what we need after I _____(verb).” “Mom, I have to at least bring _____(same pet used above)!” “This is not the time for _____(adjective) jokes,” she said as she finished putting on her _____(a color) chapstick in the rearview mirror.” “Um, it’s no joke, Mom. You told me to bring what I needed to stay entertained.” “Back in the car!” she yelled. It was extremely _____(adjective) on that _____(length of time) round-trip to home and back to Convention. You can imagine how relieved I was when the first convention speaker we went to hear said, “Parents, no matter how _____(adjective) your trip getting here might have been, the important thing is you got here!” Mom just looked over at me and _____(past tense of a verb).
