

WHAT WE SUPPORT

PARENT DIRECTED

The foundation of a homeschool education is that it is done solely at the direction of the parents. That means everything from curriculum to schedule is controlled by the parents.

PARENT FUNDED

Parental control of funding ensures that no outside interests have a say in the education that takes place inside our homes.

FREEDOM TO EDUCATE

The freest homeschool laws in the country were hard won. We work to maintain that freedom, from one-on-one support & education to advocacy in our state legislature.

Homeschool Freedom for the Next Generation

WHY WE DO IT

Homeschool Idaho is convinced that parents are uniquely equipped to provide their children the best possible education. Parents know their children better than anyone; are more committed to their success than anyone; and, love them more than anyone. Parents can provide their children the best possible learning environment, a broad variety of opportunities for community involvement, and safeguard their wellbeing. Finally, parents know best how to nurture their children's souls and minds.

For these reasons, and more, Homeschool Idaho is deeply committed to the homeschool lifestyle and ensuring that it remains an education option for generations to come.

WHO WE ARE

Homeschool Idaho is a 501(c)3 nonprofit organization, run by volunteers, that exists to inspire, encourage, equip, and protect Idaho's diverse homeschool community.

We support parent-led, parent-funded education, free from government oversight.

We work to protect homeschool freedom by monitoring legislation and building relationships with legislators.

We provide homeschool families unique resources on our website, through social media, and at hosted events throughout the year.
